The Juniata College Bulletin is published quarterly by Juniata College at Huntingdon, Pennsylvania: Winter, Spring, Summer and Fall.
Entered February 6, 1904, at Huntingdon, Pa.,
as second-class matter under Act of Congress of July 16, 1894.

The Talk of The Campus

From This Angle

PRESIDENT ELLIS, in his annual report to the Board of Trustees, commented that the 80th year was "more exciting than any we have experienced." He referred to the announcement of the Ford Foundation grant, the approval of the new residence hall for women, the post-season football clash in the Tangerine Bowl at Orlando, Fla.

Well, from this angle, it looks like the 81st year may be just as exciting.

For one thing, the college opened in September with the largest enrollment in its history (730) and that has created some interesting and exciting problems. For another, the women's hall is well under construction—"off the ground," as someone said—and should be ready for next September.

And just before deadline, we have to report that the football team, after winning its opening game to extend the unbeaten record to 25, suffered a 13-6 defeat by Lycoming in Williamsport on Oct. 13 to end the longest record without defeat among the nation's small colleges.

How's that for some excitement already?

SPEAKING OF DEADLINES, each issue of the Alumni Bulletin magazine is in the making for five to six weeks. For instance, work on the "Personals" section of this issue was begun right after October 1. The preparation of the other sections was done prior to October 15. And the finished magazine was delivered from the printer to our mailing room about November 15.

Perhaps this explains why it often seems like a long time until you read about the marriage of a certain classmate or until that new address you sent in months ago appears in your class notes.

And that's why football season is over while you are just reading about Juniata's loss to Lycoming.

THIS SCHEDULE of the Alumni Bulletin—four times a year in the Fall, Winter, Spring and Summer—seems to be preferred by our readers, by the way. Some time ago, we invited comments on a change—and we got some responses.

For example, William P. Nyce '48 wrote to say he preferred "the same setup." And he went on to point out that "a more frequent publication might cheapen the contribution the Bulletin makes and find its way sooner in the waste basket. As it is, I usually file mine as others do, too, I imagine."

Then a note from Mrs. Raymond L. Siren (Connie Sherman '52) says "At our house, it's read from cover to cover and mused over for some time."

THE CLASS EDITOR, noting subject of class notes, has a request to make to all our readers. She feels that the class notes would be more interesting if you were to report not only your new address, but also give the reason for your move. Maybe you built and moved into a new home . . . or your company has transferred or promoted you . . . or you have taken a new job . . . retired from business life . . . gotten married . . . or had to expand with the expanding family.

Whatever you're doing may not be earth-shaking news, but if it's new for you, then it's of interest to your classmates.

Before leaving this subject, she has a word of praise for the many alumni who faithfully and carefully send us your new addresses.

THE ITEM about addresses reminds us to remind you of the importance of sending your new address as soon as possible whenever you move. A post card addressed to the Alumni Office, Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa., will do the trick.

NOW WE HAVE some news for you. Maybe you noticed a slight revision in the name of our Class Editor inside the front cover.

Well, the former Mary Ann Bailey '55 just beat the deadline for changes by becoming the bride of Philbrook W. Smith, instructor in history on the faculty, on Saturday, Oct. 13, 1956. Prof. Emeritus S. Earl Dubbel performed the ceremony in his home. The newlyweds now are living in an apartment at Radio Station WHUN, 400 Washington St.

So it's Mary Ann Bailey Smith, Class Editor.

JUST A REMINDER now that Alumni Day comes on Saturday, June 1—that's 1957—and you can begin to make your plans for class reunions. It's not too early!

Around The Campus

Record High

JUNIATA'S enrollment has hit a new all-time high with 730 students registered for the Fall term. This total exceeds the previous record of 689 set in September, 1948.

Included in the total are 601 resident students—41 more than last year's high of 560. This caused an over-crowded campus housing situation which was eased by the cooperation of Huntingdon citizens in making rooms available for men.

Men, incidentally, outnumber women 459 to 271 in the record enrollment. The totals include 31 unclassified students in non-degree and music instruction.

This year's freshman class numbers 235—second largest in the college's history. There were 256 freshmen in 1946.

Free Bus Rides

MEN STUDENTS at the College who were assigned to private housing quarters in downtown Huntingdon because of an overflow in campus dorms, are getting free bus rides "on the college."

Dr. James F. Penney, dean of men, is issuing 24-trip tickets each week to these men "to compensate for the inconvenience of a downtown location."

Ellis Scholars

FIVE TOP scholars at Juniata were named to receive the Charles C. Ellis memorial scholarships to head a list of 79 given awards for "superior academic attainment" by the financial aid committee.

The Ellis scholars, all seniors, are: Lawrence W. Davis, North Braddock, Pa.; Richard A. Livingston, Johnstown, Pa.; James

M. Stayer, Denver, Pa.; Carol E. Titus, Paulsboro, N. J.; and Joyce Ann White, Lewistown, Pa.

They were recognized for demonstrating "unusual competence in scholarship and good citizenship," according to John T. Fike, college treasurer and chairman of the financial aid committee.

The Ellis scholarships were established at the College by friends and alumni as a memorial to the late Dr. Charles C. Ellis, a distinguished educator who served as teacher, vice-president, president, president emeritus and trustee from 1894 until his death in 1950.

Greet Adlai

THE DEMOCRATIC contender for the presidency, Adlai Stevenson, made a "whistle-stop" in Huntingdon in early October and was greeted by Juniata students carrying a huge banner:

"Juniata College Chapter, Youth for Eisenhower-Nixon."

Flanking these students were others with two smaller placards saying "Our Complacent Friends."

In welcoming the crowd, Stevenson quipped: "I include my young friends of Juniata College, to whom I say that I, for one, believe in the redemption of sins and that a confession is good for the soul. And I believe the longer you are educated in college the more you'll vote Democratic."

Wins Alumni Scholarship

Jay Robert Maust, R. D. 1, Somerset, received the four-year $1,000 alumni scholarship for an incoming freshman at the College. The award, one of the top scholarships given to students, is distributed to the student in equal parts over a four-year period. It is provided by the income from the college's Alumni Fund.

Regional Conference

DELEGATES from five districts of Pennsylvania and adjacent areas in New York and New Jersey convened at Juniata College (Aug. 22) for the Eastern regional conference of the Church of the Brethren.

A three-day youth conference for the Eastern Region overlapped the regional conference by opening Aug. 24. The Rev. Clarence H. Rosenberger, church relations representative of the College, estimated that 250 attended this conference.

Principal addresses at the regional conference were given by two prominent Methodists, Bishop Fred Pierce Corson of the Philadelphia area, and Lowell B. Hazard, head of the department of Old Testament, Westminster Theological Seminary, Westminster, Md.

Name Two Houses

THE COLLEGE has named two off-campus houses in honor of two former trustee-faculty members, David Emmert and Joseph E. Saylor.

Emmert House, which accommodates 12 coeds and a faculty apartment, has been named for David Emmert who taught at Juniata from 1877 to 1883. He returned to the college in 1892 and taught art and biology until 1907. He also served on the board of trustees.

Fourteen men reside in Saylor House named for Joseph E. Saylor, first college graduate to join the faculty of Juniata in 1878. He was secretary of the faculty, first librarian and served on the board of trustees until 1913.

Three Alumni Scholars

Three upperclassmen at the College currently hold the alumni scholarships. They are: Joan A. McClure, senior from Colonial Park (Dauphin County); Dale M. Baugher, York; and Barbara R. Walls, Glenside, Pa.

11 Join Faculty

THE FACULTY and staff had 11 new members when College opened with its all-time record enrollment in September.

Included among the new appointments were a dean of women, Miss Barbara Ann Bechtell (announced in Summer issue); a registrar, James L. Bray (see story); a head football coach, Kenneth B. Bunn, Jr., (announced in Summer issue); and an assistant librarian, Miss Anna Kathryn Winger '53 (see story).

Three assistant professors and four instructors were among the newcomers to the teaching faculty. They are:

CLYDE R. BURNETT, assistant professor of physics (part-time)—Native of Iowa and graduate of Upper Iowa University; received the Ph.D. degree from the University of Wisconsin; formerly a member of the faculty at South Dakota State College, and now assistant professor of physics at Penn State.

CHARLES A. GODLASKY, instructor in sociology—Native of Osceola Mills, Pa.; holds two degrees from Penn State, bachelor's and master's; has pursued further work toward the doctorate at Penn State; last year was a graduate assistant and an assistant with freshman football squad at Penn State; taught one year and served as football line coach at Tyrone, Pa., assisting Ken Bunn in football.

WILLIAM O. HAMBACHER, assistant professor of psychology—Native of Bloomfield, New Jersey, and graduate of Upsala College; received master's and doctor's degrees from the University of Pennsylvania; formerly instructor in psychology at the University of Pennsylvania; during the past year Research Psychologist with the Air-Crew Equipment Laboratory of the Naval Air Experimental Station in Philadelphia.

WERNER L. LOEWY, instructor in classical languages—Native of Berlin, Germany; graduate of New York University (A.B.) and of Yale University (A.M.); further graduate study toward doctor's degree at Columbia University; formerly an instructor at Yale, Brown, and Clark Universities; formerly associated with Columbia University Library and Columbia University Press.

JANE C. PARKER, instructor in modern languages—Native of Waterbury, Connecticut, and graduate of the University of Connecticut (A.B.); graduate of Laval University, Quebec, (A.M.); formerly assistant to registrar, Columbia College of Pharmacy and recently a teacher of English in the O'Sullivan Bi-Lingual College, Quebec; recently associated with Pollack's department store, Quebec, in charge of American orders.

ROBERT B. THORNBURG, assistant professor of English—Native of Hagerstown, Maryland, and graduate of Gettysburg College, graduate degrees from the University of Pennsylvania (A.M. and Ph.D.); formerly a teacher at Muhlenberg College, Gettysburg College, and Loudoun Community College, Leesburg, Virginia; for the past two years instructor in English at the Ogontz Center of the Pennsylvania State University.

GLADYS C. WEAVER, instructor in education—Graduate of Windber High School; degrees from Elizabethtown College (B.S.) and University of Pennsylvania (M.S.); teacher in Central Manor School and Milton J. Brecht School, both in Lancaster County; active in church activities as a camp leader and children's worker.

Library Aide

MISS Anna Kathryn Winger '53, R. D. 1, Greencastle, Pa., began as assistant librarian at the College in September.

Miss Winger replaces Miss Miriam E. Dickey who was given a leave of absence to accept an overseas assignment with the Office of Civilian Personnel of the U. S. Army.

A graduate of Juniata College in 1953, Miss Winger received her master's degree in library science from Drexel Institute of Technology in 1954. She has been librarian at James Buchanan Junior-Senior High School at Mercersburg, Pa.

Born in Waynesboro, Pa., Miss Winger is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Winger, Greencastle, Pa. She was graduated from Greencastle High School and is a member of the Greencastle Church of the Brethren. Miss Winger also belongs to Beta Phi Mu, a library fraternity.

Correction

An error occurred in the Juniata Alumni Fund Report published in the Summer issue of the Alumni Bulletin when the name of William E. Swigart, Jr., did not appear in bold capitals to indicate his membership in the One Thousand Club. Mr. Swigart, Class of '37, is a member.

New Registrar

JAMES L. BRAY, Yorktown, Va., became registrar of the College in September to succeed A. William Engel, Jr.

Mr. Bray

Mr. Bray, an experienced teacher, guidance counselor and professional actor who played a leading role in the "Common Glory" at Williamsburg, Va., also is director of dramatics and instructor in English on the faculty.

The appointment of Mr. Bray permitted Mr. Engel, who served as registrar since 1949, to begin his duties as director of public relations. Mr. Engel has been registrar, director of publicity and instructor in English.

For the past four years, Mr. Bray has been counselor of guidance and instructor in English at Fork Union Military Academy, Fork Union, Va. He also was a public school teacher in Virginia for three years.

During each summer for 10 years, Mr. Bray has been associated with the production of the "Common Glory," a play about early American days written by Pulitzer-prize winner Paul Green. He has had many roles in the drama and also has been assistant to the stage manager for two years.

Mr. Bray received a bachelor of arts degree with a major in English from the College of William and Mary in 1948. In 1955, he received a master of education degree from the same college. He has taken graduate study at the University of Virginia.

Incidentally, Mr. Bray has directed the Fall production of the Masque—"Arsenic and Old Lace"—scheduled Parents Day.

The Juniata Sports Parade

After 25 – Boom !

THAT BIG FOOTBALL bubble, which had expanded to 25 games without defeat, has burst!

It happened in Williamsport on Saturday, Oct. 13, when a fired-up band of Warriors from Lycoming College brought to abrupt end the amazing streak of Juniata which began with the first game of 1953—a 20-6 victory over Moravian—and finished with a 13-6 defeat.

Lycoming's team gave an impressive exhibition of football in accomplishing what no team had done since Lebanon Valley turned the trick by the same score in the final contest of the 1952 season.

As explained in the Juniata Football Letter (sent to J-winners on the Monday after each game), Lycoming was clearly the stronger team on the field that Saturday and merited the triumph. The Warriors were ready. The desire and determination, so frequently the dominating factors in Juniata's three perfect-record seasons, were on their side.

The week before, Coaches Ken Bunn and Charley Godlasky took their bows as the Indians stunned Moravian 25-0 in the opener.

This came about just three days after Bobby Sill, junior full-back with All-State potential, was lost for the season because of an uncommon disease known as infectious mononucleosis. Sill had been regarded as the mainstay of an otherwise untested backfield and was boosted by Sports Illustrated (Sept. 24, 1956-page 105) as the "best" of a nucleus of last year's team returning.

As Sill watched from the sidelines, his teammates came through in dramatic fashion to defeat the Moravian Greyhounds with unexpected ease. Much of the credit was given to Sill's replacement—Bill Berrier, a rookie freshman from Harrisburg, who became Juniata's starting full-back just two days before the game after being moved from a guard position on the third team.

Most everyone recognized that even before the untimely departure of Sill, the big chiefs were missing from the football tribe which ran the nation's longest small college winning streak to 23 last year. Then it extended the undefeated record to 24 in a 6-6 deadlock with Missouri Valley in the Tangerine Bowl at Orlando, Fla., on Jan. 2.

But Ken Bunn, succeeding Bob Hicks as head coach, told his squad to report "with a winning spirit" when they turned out on Labor Day. He recognized that eight missing seniors, including seven starters, "might cause a let-down." However, he hoped that a core of lettermen (now only nine) would "bolster the rookies." There are 24 freshmen on the squad.

Bunn, with the assistance of Charley Godlasky, a Penn State teammate, installed the multiple offense in which "we run anything with equal efficiency." Key men among his holdovers were John Staley, senior center from Tarentum; Charles (Moon) Mullen, senior tackle from Altoona, and Sill. He also had a pair of lettermen at guards, Charley Haines, Conemaugh R. D., and Bill Schott, Glenshaw, plus Bernie McQuown, junior tackle from Punxsutawney, to bolster the middle. Then, too, Don Shover, reserve blocking back last season, shifted to guard and won a starting berth. Al Sellari, Aliquippa, promising sophomore, took one of the end posts.

SEEING DOUBLE. That's right, the Indians have the Berrier twins from Harrisburg on this year's football squad. Left is Jim; right is Bill (we think). It was Bill who stepped into Bob Sill's shoes at fullback.

An important returnee was Joe Trimber, talented wingback of the first undefeated season in 1953, now out of Army service. Joe, from Moon Township, was made a tailback and paired up with Glenn Hassinger, a junior letterman from Carlisle R. D.

Biggest gap to fill was at quarterback where a pair of freshmen shared the assignment in the early games—Dick Fagan of Huntingdon High's unbeaten team of last year, and Bob Schwalenberg from West Shore High.

BRAIN TRUST of the Juniata Indians this season. Charley Godlasky (left) and Head Coach Ken Bunn are guiding this year's Tribe.

New Team at JC

CCROSS-COUNTRY got under way with an intercollegiate schedule on College Hill this Fall for the first time in Juniata's history.

And the hill-and-dalers, coached by P. M. (Mike) Snider, raced to victory in their first meet with a 17-38 decision (low score wins) over Elizabethtown College.

Herb Layman '57, dashed home in the good time of 21 minutes and 43 seconds over the $4\frac{1}{4}$ -mile layout to pace the Indians to victory. Frank Hrach '60, Herb Deuchar '58, and Doug Wilson '57 finished in the next three positions and Charles Brown '59 came in seventh.

A junior, Joe Senft, and three freshmen — Henry Crocker, Ed Moore and Jim Pettit—also are running on Juniata's first squad.

The team was scheduled to meet Muhlenberg, Albright and Franklin and Marshall this season and take part in the Middle Atlantic championship at Allentown.

Drexel Rivalry Resumes

Juniata resumed its football rivalry with Drexel Tech on Oct. 27. The Dragons hold the edge 11-5-2 in the 18-game series dating to 1921.

Alumni Achievement

It's Doctor Rhodes

J. MELVIN RHODES '38, former dean of students at Juniata and now placement assistant in the University of Arizona Placement Bureau has completed all requirements for the doctor of philosophy degree, according to an announcement by Dr. David L. Patrick, dean of the Graduate College. The degree will be conferred at the University of Arizona's Commencement May 29, 1957.

A member of the university administrative staff since 1952, Rhodes has had charge of government, business and industrial relations in the university's Placement Bureau. He arranged hundreds of interviews for students with prospective employers. Besides assisting students in lining up career jobs after graduation, he has aided many undergraduates in finding part-time work to help finance their education.

Rhodes has also taught courses in educational psychology and guidance techniques and served as resident counselor in men's dormitories at the university. In addition to these administrative duties, Rhodes has carried on his graduate work toward the doctoral degree, majoring in educational psychology. His doctor's thesis was on "The Dynamics of Creativity."

SERVING AS PRESIDENT this year of the Pennsylvania Federation of Women's Clubs is Mrs. Woodrow R. Matern '33 of McClure, Pa. She is the former Kathryn B. Corcelius, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. George E. Corcelius of Huntingdon. (Story in Summer issue).

Research Grant

RESEARCH Corporation of New York City has awarded a grant of $4,000 to Dr. Thurman Grossnickle '50 to continue his study of the mechanism of the dienone-phenol rearrangement.

The award, known as the Frederick Gardner Cottrell grant, was made in mid-October to Dr. Grossnickle now assistant professor of chemistry at Bridgewater College in Virginia.

Dr. Grossnickle's study is important because the dienone-phenol rearrangement is used in a number of studies and syntheses, especially in the fat-soluble compounds formed in the endocrine organs, according to Charles H. Schauer, director of grants.

COMMENCEMENT WEEKEND

JUNE 1-2-3, 1957

Dr. Miles Writes

EXACTLY WHAT Americans are has long been a perplexing topic to inhabitants of all nations, especially to those who call themselves Americans. And while it is undoubtedly difficult to define Americans, one of the few positive assertions that can be made is that adopted by Dr. Leland Miles '46 as his fundamental premise; namely, that Americans are people.

That's the title of Dr. Miles volume, just off the press by Twayne Publishers, Inc.

The book is described as "a hilarious and yet profound series of essays on American attitudes toward just about everything under the sun." Dr. Miles demonstrates that whatever else Americans may be, they are individuals.

Having no axe to grind and no special cause to serve (the jacket flyleaf reads), Dr. Miles brings to this volume "a profound intelligence, an abundance of wit, and an understanding and love of this subject."

In his foreword, the Governor of Maryland, Theodore McKeldin, has caught the full flavor of these essays. "Few essay collections can match this one in bringing together so much of America in one short volume. Here is a book which should be enthusiastically received by parents, public officials, teachers, and indeed by all those among the general public who are anxious to broaden the scope of their thinking, but have no objection to their funnybones being tickled at the same time."

Governor McKeldin goes on: "Those who do read it will, I think, agree with me that the startling range of AMERICANS ARE PEOPLE, combined with its unflagging good humor and literary excellence, symbolizes the emergence of a distinguished new figure in American non-fiction."

Look for Dr. Leland Miles' book, "Americans Are People; and other assertions."

PERSONALS

Where Are '56ers?

THOSE SENIORS of the Class of '56, who were just on campus not too long ago, have now scattered to many parts of the globe. In a recent questionnaire, the class representative, Jim Hunt, discovered the whereabouts of many. Here is his information compiled by the Class Editor of the Bulletin from those who responded to the questionnaire.

Albright, Neil R., Frankstown, Pa. Serving six churches and attending Westminster Theological Seminary, Westminster, Md.

Memo to J Fans

Just in case you missed it —

LITTLE INDIANS MAKE BIG WAR WHOOPS

The Juniata College Indians typify "small" college football teams throughout the land, and these schools are playing the kind of game that attracts more and more fans each year.

That's the display head on a four-page spread which was published in the 1956 College and Pro issue of SPORTS REVIEW-FOOTBALL—a national picture magazine of sports by Sports Review Publishing Co., Chicago.

It's a story about Juniata's success on the gridiron with pictures of campus scenes, college personnel and an action shot of the Tribe.

You can buy a copy at most newsstands. Sorry, reprints are not available.
